Dear Parents and Carers,

'Wear' it YELLOW for St Benedict's Hospice & Centre for Specialist Palliative Care

We need YOU!

Friday 21 June 2019 sees the inaugural Yellow/Sunflower Day, and we are hoping to turn the whole of Sunderland (and beyond) YELLOW. All businesses, schools, community groups and indeed everybody across the region are encouraged to wear yellow to show their support!

This is a great opportunity for Ryhope Infant School Academy to get involved and show our support for a local charity. We are hoping to get our pupils involved by asking if they could wear something YELLOW on this day, with donations to the hospice optional. If you would like to send donations, please give it to your child to put in the collection box. This will be a NON-UNIFORM day for the children.

St Benedict's Hospice would also like you to join the conversation across social media by using the hashtags #WearYellow, #YellowDay, and #StBenedictsHospice to share your photos and reasons what St Benedict's Hospice means to you, your family and the community of Sunderland. Between 12 noon and 2.00pm they will be launching their twitter 'thunderclap' where they hope to get trending across the UK with your help.

Thank you in anticipation of your support.
